Dear Valued Supplier,

We are pleased to let you know that, on April 15, 2019, EFI announced it has agreed to be acquired by an affiliate of a leading private equity firm, Siris Capital Group, LLC. As a valued supplier of EFI, we want to keep you informed of the facts pertaining to the acquisition. Details of the transaction can be found in the attached copy of the press release.

Siris Capital brings deep strategic and operational experience as well as resources to help us continue to innovate and bring more value to our customers and partners. We are excited to partner with Siris' expert team on this next phase of growth for EFI.

We expect the transaction will close by the third quarter of 2019. At that time, EFI will no longer be a publicly-traded company on the Nasdaq stock exchange. Instead, we will be a private company owned by an affiliate of Siris Capital.

We believe private ownership by a supportive and value-adding partner will allow us to devote our time and attention to delivering valuable and innovative products and outstanding service to customers.

As we work to complete this transaction, I want you to know that your relationship with EFI will remain business as usual. Your contacts will stay the same and you should expect the same high level of partnership from our team.

If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to reach out to your EFI contacts. Thank you for your continued support as a valued supplier.

Sincerely,

Supply Chain Manager
